What makes UNICO Interior Film's Finishes better?

Our Interior film finishes resemble natural materials and other such surfaces to an astonishing degree. They deliver the look you want, at the price you need. You can touch the grains of the wood and feel the sheer coldness of the texture of the stone finish or experience the warmth of leather. We value our clients' Time, therefore we constantly invest in our staff in order to keep them updated with the latest application processes. This ensures high quality product application by skilled professional at lightening fast speed. Its self adhesive technology further reduces the time and further fastens up the process.

Product with technical info Exceptions and Limitations

- The Interior Film applied surface with no direct UV light exposure can last longer the one constantly being exposed. In the case of constant exposure to UV rays & heat, the product durability might differ. Thus the actual life cycle of the product is inversely proportional to the amount of direct sunlight it is being exposed to.
- Horizontal indoor counters and ledges that are exposed to abrasion may result in premature wear or damage. Applying select Films provide reasonable resistance to abrasion, which might also change the gloss and overall appearance of the film over which it is applied.
